THE REFORMER.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER,

All grim and soiled and brown with tan
I saw a strong one in his wrath
Smiting the godless shrines of man
Along his path.

The church, beneath her trembling dome,
Essayed in vain her ghostly charm;
Wealth shook within his gilded home
With pale alarm.

Fraud from his secret chambers fled
Before the sunlight bursting in;
Sloth drew her pillow o'er her head
To drown the din.

"Spare," Art implored, "yon holy pile,
That grand old time-worn turret spare!"
Meek Reverence, kneeling in the aisle,
Cried out, "forbear!"

Gray-bearded Use, who, deaf and blind,
Groped from his old, accustomed stone,
Leaned on his staff, and wept to find
His seat o'erthrown.

Young Romance raised his dreamy eyes,
O'erhung with paly locks of gold;
"Why smite?" he asked in sad surprise,
"The fair, the old?"

Yet louder rang the strong one's stroke,
Yet nearer flashed his ax's gleam;
Shuddering and sick at heart I woke
As from a dream.

I looked! Aside the dust cloud rolled;
The Waster seemed the builder, too;
Up-springing from the ruined Old,
I saw the rising New.

'T was but the ruin of the bad,
The wasting of the wrong and ill;
Whate'er of good the old time had
Was living still.

Calm grew the brows of him I feared,
The frown that awed me passed away
And left behind a smile, which cheered
Like breaking day.

Green grew the grass on battle plains;
O'erswarded war-mounds grazed the cow;
The slave stood forging from his chains,
The spade and plow.

Where frowned the fort, pavilions gay,
And cottage windows, flower entwined,
Looked out upon the peaceful bay,
And hills behind.

On vine-wreathed cups with wine once red,
The light on brimming crystal fell,
Drawn sparkling from the rivulet head
And mossy well.

Thro' prison walls, like heaven-sent hope
Fresh berries blew and sunshine stray'd
And with the idle gallows rope
The young child played

Where the doomed captive in his cell
Had counted o'er the weary hours,
Glad school girls, answering to the bell,
Came crowned with flowers.

Grown wiser for the lesson given,
I fear no longer; for I know
That where the share is deepest driven
The best fruits grow.

The out-worn rite, the old abuse,
The pious fraud transparent grown,
The good held captive in the use
Of fraud alone.

These wait their doom from that great law
Which makes the past time seem to-day,
And fresher life the world shall draw
From their decay.

Oh! backward looking son of time!
The new is old, the old is new:
The cycle of a change sublime,
Still sweeping through.

So wisely taught the Indian seer,
Destroying Seva, forming Brahm,
Who wakes by turns earth's love and fear
Are one the same.

As idly as in that old day
Thou mournest, did the sires repine;
So, in his turn, the child grown gray
Shall sigh for thine.

But life shall on and upward go,
The eternal step of progress beats
To that great anthem, calm and slow,
Which God repeats.

Take heart! the Waster builds again,
A charmed life Old Goodness hath;
The tares may perish, but the grain
Is not for death

God works in all things, all obey
His first propulsion from the night;
Ho! wake and watch! the world is gray
With morning light!

For the Independent.

GLEANINGS FROM ASTRONOMY.

Astronomy is the science that treats of the heavenly bodies, their motions, size, distances, &c. By the heavenly bodies are meant the sun, the moon, stars, planets and comets. Astronomy is the most sublime as well as the oldest of sciences. The shepherds of the patriarchal age, tending their flocks by by day and night, beneath the deep blue canopy of heaven, naturally directed their gaze to the brilliant orbs with which it is studded; observed their motions, and thus became the first astronomers.

The great, fundamental facts established by astronomers, are, that space is filled with worlds. Looking up into the heavens on a clear night we see them all around us; but upon sweeping the heavens with the powerful telescope, millions more are brought to our vision.

These worlds are divided into systems, the members of which are bound together by mutual attraction. Each system has a central sun, around which the other members called planets revolve. While this revolution is going on, the suns themselves, with their respective planets move around a common fixed central point. Many of the stars that we see twinkling in the sky are immense suns of other systems of worlds; their accompanying planets are invisible on account of the immense distance; and from the fact of their being non-luminous.

The SOLAR SYSTEM, as at present known, consists of the Sun, its center; seventy planets revolving around it, of which sixty-two, on account of their small size, are called asteroids—that is, star-like bodies; twenty moons revolving around the planets, and many thousands of comets, the exact number of which is unknown.

The Sun, the great source of heat to the planets, is the center of the solar system. It is an immense globe, five hundred times as large as all the planets put together. Its diameter is eight hundred and eighty two thousands of miles. If placed where the earth is, it would fill the whole orbit of the moon, and extend two hundred thousand miles beyond it in all directions. Its volume is nearly a million and a half times as great as the earth's, and it contains more than three hundred and fifty thousand times as much matter. Viewed through a telescope the sun looks like a globe of fire. Its surface, however, is not always luminous A number of dark spots, surrounded by a lighter shadow, are, at times, scattered here and there within a zone extending thirty-five degrees on each side of the solar equator. The number and size of the spots differ at different times; for while some last a couple of months, or even longer; others change their form from day to day. They have been known to vanish almost instantly, and to re-appear as suddenly; and some years ago none at all visible, in others as many as two hundred are seen at once, covering so much of the surface as to materially diminish the quantity of light emitted.

The sun's density is about one-fourth that of the earth. Respecting its constitution but little is known; nor are astronomers any better informed as to what produces its intense heat and light. It was formerly supposed that the whole mass was in a state of combustion. But how can such combustion be kept up without diminishing the material on which it feeds? The difficulty of answering this question has led the later astronomers to point to friction or electricity as the most probable source of solar heat and light.

The more prominent of the sun's spots, if observed from time to time, are found to change their position on its disc or face, first becoming visible on the east side they gradually move toward the west, and in about thirteen days are lost from sight in that direction. After a similar period they reappear in the east. This phenomenon shews that the sun turns on its axis from west to east in about twenty-five days and eight hours. Beside turning on its axis, the sun, attended by its planets, moves at the rate of eight miles a second, in a circular pathway around a center, far off in the limitless fields of space. So vast is this path that it will take the sun eighteen millions, two hundred thousand years to move once completely around it.

MOUNT UNION COLLEGE

The term just closed has been the largest winter term in the history of this rapidly growing college. The term beginning next Tuesday bids fair to be larger than any former one. No college in Ohio, nor over three or four in the United States, have so many students in full college classes as are in this. Such are the arrangements of a spring, summer and fall terms that students can get a regular college year of study, and by teaching in winter, can earn enough to defray their whole college expenses, without losing time, or falling behind their classes.

Students from the public schools, who have not studied Latin and Greek are admitted to regular standing in college classes and courses, by having studied equivalents in Mathematics and Natural Science. The leading object is, "to provide for the people a progressive college where any person can freely and economically obtain superior illustrated instruction in any useful study."

Among the characteristics of the college are the following: Full courses—scientific, physical, ancient and modern classical; special courses—Normal or teachers', commercial, instrumental and vocal music, fine art, preparatory: elective—liberty given in the choice of studies; Apparatus and specimens for practically illustrating each study; equal privileges to ladies; Christian, but not Sectarian or Partisan; economy in students' expenses; superior literary societies; special care for the health, morals, discipline and comfort of students; a live and modernized college adapted to the masses, to the public school system of the country, and to the progressive spirit of the age.

In 1873, the terms begin Feb. 25, May 13, Aug, 26, and Nov. 25.

Of the the 8,519 students formerly in attendance (representing twenty four states). 6,287 have been employed in teaching public schools—about one third being ladies. The number of graduates are:—Bachelor of arts, 95; master of arts, 54; bachelor of science, 88; master of science, 52; bachelor of philosophy, 1; bachelor of commercial science, 163; instrumental music, 5; normal, or teachers' course, 4,174. Advanced students are classified according to the average of their attainments. Tuition in normal class, free.

"The building of the Mount Union college are new, substantial and commodious; well finished and furnished, and, containing the modern improvements, are admirably adapted in all respects to college purposes." The present estimated value of the college property is $386,000. All the college property is used for the benefit of students. Last year's current incomes were $22,750. The largest average attendance was last year's with a total in the departments of 1 195.

Students of good character may enter any time, at proportional rates, pursue any branches they are qualified to study, and graduate in any course when completed.

By having erected and furnished two large boarding halls, the college can regulate, and keep at low rates, the rooms and board, the chief expenses of the students—their total expenses being lower here than at any other institution of equal advantages. In each department there is provision for an ample number of thoroughly qualified, experienced and reliable professors.

Prof. D. S. Evans, an artist of high rank, has recently been elected to the chair of fine arts, and will teach designing and painting in all their branches. A superior picture gallery is being fitted up for students to study and copy.

Prof. Wm. Armstrong, a graduate in London, has lately been elected to the chair of instrumental music.

The commercial department or business college is not excelled anywhere, as regards either facilities or instruction.

Persons desiring catalogues or any information concerning the college, can address Lewes Miller, Esq., Pres. trustees, Akron, O., or O. N. Hartshorn, LL. D., Pres. of faculty, Mt. Union, or Alliance, O.

To aid in extending the museum of Mount Union College, there will soon be published in good style, a permanently valuable and interesting book, entitled "Popular Science," on the plan of illustrated instruction, with over 200 engravings of specimens now in the museum of the college. Over $100,000 worth of specimens have been lately added to this museum. The choice apparatus, formerly the property of Alliance college, has recently been added to the extensive sets of this college.

Good board, including furnished rooms, ranges from $3.30 to $4.00 per week; club or self-board, including room rent, from $1.25 to $2 [illegible]. Tuition in classical, scientific, philosophical and preparatory studies, is from $4 to $13 per term. No contingent or extra charges. The trustees and faculty guarantee the published prices; also will furnish for a college year of the three terms, tuition in any one department, board, room, washing, fuel and lights, for a sum ranging from $130, to $260.

The trustees will increase the property of Mount Union college to $1,000.000, as soon as there are in regular attendance 1,000 students; or, they will increase the property proportionately for any number between 600 and 1,500 The reason for making these two generous offers, is, by securing a large attendance of students, to enable the college "to do the greatest good to greatest number."

NIGHTMARE AND DREAMS.

There is one curious and difficult inquiry to which no satisfactory reply has yet been given. It is in regard to the horrible phenomena of nightmare. Why is it our dreams, when we sleep in an easy position and the organs are in healthy action, are beautiful and agreeable; but when we sleep in a cramped, oppressive attitude or are suffering from indigestion, they are invariably of a frightful character, full of deformity or danger, causing pain and terror? On this abstract and interesting problem the following solution which, it is believed, will be acceptable and conclusive to those familiar with the ultimate principles of psychological science. Ugly and terrible outward phenomena, reported in the brain, and there interpreted in relation to what the exigency requires of the organism, produce disturbing and violent reactions in various nervous centres. These reactions, reporting themselves in the brain, are there, by the intersection of the law of association, taken to imply the presence, as outward causes, of the ugly and terrible phenomena of which they had before been consequences. If a piece of tough beef in the stomach causes from within just such a ganglionic perturbation as would be caused from without by a murderous deed or a fall from a precipice, is it not quite natural that the mind, deprived of its usual verifying tests, should think its subjective interpretation of the former an objective experience of the latter?

The commonest mistake in regard to dreams is the belief that they enter the mind from abroad. With a fine fancy, but fictitious thought, a poet says—

> "Sleep is a traitor,
> Who fills the poor defenceless eyes with blackness,
> That he may let in dreams."

They are evoked, not introduced. When the inner play becomes as it sometimes does, so exciting and powerful as to strike the springs of volition, and thus moves the muscles, we have somnambulism, which is a dream put into action. Are not some men sleepwalkers all their days, putting their dreams into actions? The essence of a dream, then, is, that objects and events which are only ideally perceived with the mind are credited with having outward existence. And in this innermost essence of the thing, in this outermost color of the phenomenon, is not our whole life full of dreams? Pascal impressively asks in one of those pregnant paragraphs which often flows from his pen. "If we were solitary when awake, but dreamed in company, and our dreams accorded with each each other, who doubts that we should believe matters reversed? In fine, as we frequently dream, piling one dream upon another, it is quite possible that this life is only a dream, on which others are grafted, from which we awake at death, and during which we have the principles of the true and the good as little as during natural sleep." How many things, which for the time sway and shape us, are limited to our own souls, pure idealities destined never to be any part of the veritable world! It is one of the deep utterances of old Heraclitus that "they who are awake have a world in common among them; but they who sleep are retired each to his own private world." Nevertheless, literal and large as the truth in this maxim is—still with reference to our moral experience an inverse statement for the former cause of it would express a graver truth and one with a more compensative inference. Consider it thus. Our common waking life is like a dream, because in it each man lives a special experience within a a world especially shaped and colored by his dominant idiosyncrasies.—Dublin University Magazine.

KATE FOX AT THE ALTAR.

Miss Kate Fox, so well known as the medium through whom modern spiritual manifestations first began in this country, was married on the 14th ult., in the old parish church, at Marylebone, near London, to Mr. Henry Diedrich Jencken, barrister at law, the officiating minister being Rev. F. Braithwaite. The following is the announcement of the marriage, as published in the London Times of December 16. 1872.

"On the 14th inst at St Marylebone church, by the Rev. F. Braithwaite, Henry Diedrich Jencken to Katharine Fox, late of New York."

Mr. Jencken is of a German family of prominence. His mother was a countess by marriage, but her first husband dying, her second was outside of the pale of the titled aristocracy, although Mr. Jencken's father was a professional man of eminence in Germany and belonged to a family of unquestionable antiquity. Mr. Jencken is a successful and well known member of the London bar, and in addition to his practice, possesses a handsome competence.

The marriage ceremony was witnessed by a few personal friends only, among whom were Miss Ogden, a resident of this city, who went to London with Miss Kate Fox last fall; Dr. Fred Tomkins, an old and valued friend of the groom, and author of several works on Roman law; Dr. George Bird and Miss Bird, of 40 Walnut street, London; Mr. Henry Cholmondeyley, Pennell, the poet, and Mrs. Pennell; Mr. James Wason, of Liverpool, and Mr. William H. Harrison, an American. More noticeable than either of those already named were Prince George of Solms, one of the German principalities, and the Duke of Wellington, both of whom witnessed the ceremony.

According to the English ecclesiastical law of marriage in a parish church must take place before noon, and thus the wedding party were compelled to be at the church at the un American hour of 11 A. M. They came in three carriages drawn by milk white steeds, but as the proceedings were designed to be strictly private, wedding favors were dispensed with. Had it been generally known among spiritualists that Miss Kate Fox was to have been married, her nuptials would not have been permitted to pass unattended.

At 11:3[illegible], the Rev. Mr. Braithwaite who was to tie the knot, entered the church, and immediately afterward the wedding party was formed and marched up to the altar. Miss Fox leaning on the arm of Dr. Bird, who gave her away to the happy groom, went first followed by Miss Ogden, escorted by Dr. Tomkins, the others of the company following in order. At the altar they were joined by the groom, and in a few minutes the impressive words which made the twain one, were pronounced, and the party filed into the vestry and signed the register of the parish. The certificate of the marriage was signed by Miss Ogden and Dr. Tomkins as witnesses.

As the marriage ceremony was in process gentle raps were heard in the vicinity of the altar as though the spirit friends of Kate Fox were anxious to congratulate her on her happy marriage, and again in the vestry the same sounds were heard, being translated by Miss Fox as signs of the approval of her friends in the spirit land.

The bride was attired in simple white and lace, with a half wreath of white flowers in her hair. She wore no jewelry beyond a plain gold brooch at her neck. Miss Ogden was richly dressed in black, with white point lace, while Miss Bird was in plain white.

At the conclusion of the marriage services the bride and groom, with their friends, re entered their carriages and were driven to 45 York Place. Portman Square where a magnificent breakfast, whose center piece was an immense wedding cake, had been prepared. Prince George and the son of the Duke of Wellington did not attend the breakfast, but when the bride reached her future residence she found that they had not forgotten the English custom of sending her a fitting wedding gift. That of the Prince was a beautiful and valuable fan, together with a box of perfumery, while the other scion of nobility had made her an equally appropriate presents. Besides these, there were numerous gifts from other friends.

At the wedding breakfast, when the usual wishes for the happiness and welfare of the bride and groom had been uttered, and while the toast drinking was going in full blast, the spirits, who had deserted the somber church and followed the party to the social board; again made themselves heard, and loud and frequent raps were heard in various parts of the room. Miss Fox's mother was the first to make herself known. She sent a message to Mr. Jencken, commending her daughter to his care, and expressing her approval of the marriage. Besides this, she communicated to him several matters of a private nature.

Closely followed this spirit came that of Mr. James B. Taylor, whose will made so great a sensation in the courts of New York a few years ago, and who was a kind and benevolent friend to Miss Fox during the later years of his life. "We were with you at the altar," said Mr. Taylor. Then he, too, like the bride's mother (deceased), communicated with Miss Kate, or Mrs. Jencken rather, for some minutes, and concluded by heartily congratulating her on her marriage, and wishing her a happy and prosperous future.

Then Mr. Harrison, in an interval when the spirits was at rest, asked one of them: "Can you carry a message this morning to our friends in America?"

"Yes, to Maggie," (Miss Kate's sister,) was the reply, on the receipt of which Mr. Harrison requested them to say to Maggie: "Your sister Kate was married this morning in the presence of nine loving friends."

He asked the spirits, further, to convey a similar message to Mr Mansfield of New York, as so many different spirits were able to communicate through him, but the disembodied seemed to be by no means sure of finding him, and answered diffidently that they would try.

To cap the climax, the spirits at length manifested themselves physically, at least in a certain sense. As the company, with brimming bumpers, rose to do honor to the toast, "Our Spirit Friends," the heavily laden table was gently raised from the floor, and was suspended in mid air for some seconds. This occurred also at other periods of the feast.

After the breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Jencken left London for Tunbridge Wells, where a portion of the honeymoon was spent. They have since returned, and will soon visit Paris.

The wedding cake was intrusted to Captain Murray, of the White Star Line, by whom it was brought to New York for distribution among Miss Kate's friends.

Mr Jencken is a Spiritualist of many years standing. He was among the first of the professional men of England to publish what he knew about spiritual phenomena at a time when the announcement of a belief in them produced more ridicule and required more moral courage than at the present time. His betrothal to Miss Fox took place some months ago; it was studiously concealed from all but very intimate friends.

You have no power in that which is past. Life that is lived stands ghastly as a gravestone You cannot change it a particle. You cannot wipe out a deed. You cannot alter the proportion of a single element. But the future is mutable. It is plastic clay in the hand of the artist. With the future anything can be done, if you have but the heart to do it. Then build out of the [illegible] Quarry in its mines. Bring from it materials for your wants and uses.

A society has been formed in England under the title of the National Health Society, which is to have for its object to help every man and woman, rich and poor, to know for himself and to carry out practically around him, the best conditions of healthy living. The steps at present proposed are the holding of monthly meetings for the reading of papers; the establishing of classes for instruction in various branches of sanitary science; the delivery of free popular lectures, and the formation of a reference library and an information office.

It is said that the present winter 's one of the mildest ever known upon the continent of Europe. In France, especially in the environs of Paris and in the gardens of the city, the trees are covered with leaves, and the spring flowers, are beginning to bud. while in the center of France, raspberry bushes are fruiting and early asparagus has appeared. About Vienna already the fields are full of violets, and South Germans drink their beer in open air.

At the Cleveland meeting of the National Implement Association, on the 11th inst., resolutions were passed to shorten credit, reduce discounts and commissions and fixing penalties for underbidding in prices. A committee was appointed to memorialize legislature on the subjects of lower freight and express tariffs on implements, and asking for laws to avoid the locking up of money in the county treasuries that is so much needed in business channels.

"Boy, how did you manage to get such a string of fish?" "I hooked them sir."

Two Dollars a year, in advance.

Massillon, Wednesday, February 26.

But five or six weeks transpire until an important election takes place in this state—that of choosing delegates to the next constitutional amendment convention, and the election of township and municipal officers. Of course we shall have plenty of candidates for all the places contemplated, and it will soon be time to decide on who is to be run for them all. Two or three weeks ago we stated that Messrs. Jarvis and Folger of this place, and Martin of Canton were talked of in this connection; Since then we observe that Anson Pease, Esq., and Clement Russell are also named. All or any of these are good men, but what Stark county wants is to get the very best of the lot for constitution members. Our little political affairs can be carried on comparatively easy. But when it comes to amending the fundamental laws of the state then men of the best minds qualified for that purpose should be sought for and chosen to fill so responsible a place. State and municipal laws are comparatively transient, and if need be can undergo changes at short intervals, but in the proposed constitutional changes it is different—they may have to stand at least twenty years, and for this reason the best judgment and foresight at command should be placed in so responsible a position. The county central committee, through the chairman, Ed. A. Jee, give notice that township nominating meetings will be held on Saturday, March 8th, to elect delegates to the county convention, which meets at Canton on the 10th, and attend to such other business as is necessary. Perry township is entitled to seven delegates.

State Prohibition Convention.—At the prohibition convention for Ohio, held at Delaware county, on the 12th inst. delegates to the number of one or two hundred were present from twenty seven counties. The convention was permanently organized by selecting Hon. G. T. Stewart, president, Thos. Edmundson and Mrs. R A. S. Janney, vice presidents; and J. A. Spencer, Sec. A committee on resolutions, consisting of one from each congressional district, was named—Enos Brosius, of Alliance, representing the 17th. A series was drawn up, presented and adopted. As far as we can see they are all radically right—some may say they are not all expedient—the right is always expedient. A brief summary of the ideas embraced will indicate their drift. The convention, of course, reaffirm the prohibition principle, asking that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors be totally prohibited everywhere; that in consequence of recent developments of corruption in high places, all offices be filled (as far as possible) directly by vote of the people; that government secure to every family a portion of land which shall be inalienable from the grab of sharpers or the grip of the mortgage; that there be no more sacrificing of public lands to corporations of any kind; that compulsory education be authorized; that prohibitionists be cautious not to compromise principle for expediency; that good and true men be elected to the constitutional convention who will oppose all forms of license or compromise with the liquor interests; that they recommend a direct vote, at the proper time, by the people, on the question of prohibition or no prohibition, and if ratified carry it out rigidly, or if not ratified by the whole state, that provision be made so that prohibition can be carried out in those counties, townships and municipalities where the people wish it; that they favor woman suffrage, which question shall be similarly treated to that of prohibition. On some points there was considerable discussion, but when it came to voting it was almost unanimous. It was recommended that petitions be sent to the constitutional convention, asking for thorough action against liquor making or traffic in the same. It was also recommended that all ministers of the gospel be engaged in the temperance movement. The meeting then proceeded to the nomination of candidates for the various state officers with the following result: Gov. G. T. Stewart, Huron; Lieut. Gov, Wm. H. Foster, Franklin; judge supreme court, Samuel E. Adams, Cuyahoga; Board of public works E. Brosius, Stark; treasurer of state, George Dodds, Greene; attorney general, A. H. Mitchell, Belmont; auditor of state, Thos Edmundson, Clarke. Which nominations were adopted with unanimity. A state central committee was named, consisting of one from each congressional district—Reuben Irwin for Stark. A state central committee consisting of six was also named, Richard Brown, Mahoning, chairman.

To the indifferent in regard to temperance progress all this movement may seem useless—it will never amount to any thing; while to the opposers of this reform it presents only the ludicrous and absurd. Nevertheless, despite all this indifference, these sneers, and opposition in whatever shape it may assume, these movements mean something. A comparative handfull who work for the right, and are in earnest, will make their labors tell in time. The history of all reforms prove the justness of this conclusion. The day of seeming small things are not to be despised. Many of us now living may never see the cause of prohibition triumphant, but that event is coming as certainly as anything in the future. While we may be measurably prevented from directly working for the prohibition ticket on account of political affiliations, its principles are evidently right, and must have the symathies of all the good and true.

Mr. Editor:—The Literary in the Stansbury district was well attended last Thursday evening. The declaiming, reading, compositions, &c., was as good as usual, only a little more lengthy than on former occasions. The subject for debate, as stated last week, was,

Resolved, That the United States has passed the meridian of her glory.

After being criticised by the speakers on both sides of the subject it was decided by the judges in favor of the negative. The paper, edited by Miss Tilly Oberlin, was a well managed affair, and gave general satisfaction. The subject for debate on to-morrow evening is as follows:

Resolved, That the interest laws should be abolished. Pleasant.

THE OHIO CANAL:

A New Point in favor of its Improvement and Preservation.

In our issue of the 12th inst. we published an interesting table of the quantity of coal transported to Cleveland for the decade ending November, 1871, copied from the Akron Times. Also, the arrivals and clearances of coal, &c. at Massillon for the year 1872.

In our comments we endeavored to point out the prospective influence upon our home industry likely to inhere, could we but secure an uninterrupted boating season of, say, 200 days annually.

The Akron Beacon publishes the same statistical table, and enlarges as follows:

"The last two years a much larger amount would have been carried on the canal to Cleveland, if the canal had furnished sufficient water to carry the coal offered. The lack of sufficent water for the purposes of navigation for the last three years on the Portage Summit (the key to the mineral region by canal) has seriously crippled one of the greatest industries throughout the Tuscarawas Valley. This increasing demand for the transportation of the mineral productions of this valley northwardly has grown so great, and gives such assurance of permanency, that it is a favorite project among many of our sagacious business men to enlarge this part of the canal, so as to give boats a carrying capacity of two hundred tuns, instead of seventy-five the present capacity.

"That the canal is a great check upon the exactions of the great carrying monopolies of the state, and does actually make cheaper coal, is a demonstrable fact. Cheap coal is one of the most important stimulants to the manufacturing industries of the country, if not absolutely an essential one. The annual products of these industries within the boundaries of Ohio has reached the enormous sum of $300,000,000—three times the value of the entire grain crop of the state—and $50,000,000 of this is the value of labor alone.

"Natural advantages, with slightly superior transportation facilities, encourage and build up great manufacturing establishments, and add wonderfully to the wealth of the community, without which the natural resources remain undeveloped, and the population has the profits of agriculture only.

"No state that judiciously has fostered public improvements has failed to enrich the people, while 'stingy' communities have invariably fallen into decay and indigence.

"Can the state afford to make the appropriation asked by the board of public works? We say unhesitatingly—'yes.' With the demands upon this part of the canal for transportation facilities, it cannot afford to let the canal fall into disuse for want of a small appropriation to secure an adequate supply of water, which can be had.

"The peculiar location of the Portage summit destroys its entire advantage for mineral transportation, if the supply of water is inadequate to pass boats over the summit. The single item of capital employed in the coal carrying business on the canal that must necessarily be derived from the state unless the improvement is made, will pay in taxation the whole appropriation in a short time. The increased facilities this appropriation would give to the manufacturing industries of a large portion of the state, would return the expenditure many fold on the duplicate, so that the non-canal counties would, in fact, be saved from any actual outlay in that behalf, and on the other hand derive positive advantages therefrom.

"A comparison of the canal counties especially to be benefited by this improvement, with the two best non-canal counties contiguous, of about equal area and natural resources, will illustrate. Take Stark and Wayne, Summit and Portage:

Stark Co. annual manufacturing products	$8,017,479
Wayne	1,833,98?
Summit	7,134,31?
Portage	1,537,33?

"The annual agricultural production of Stark and Wayne is substantially equal—the same is nearly true of Summit and Portage, but a great difference exists in favor of Stark and Summit over Wayne and Portage in the annual production of their manufactured articles, while the natural advantages of the counties are similar and practically equal.

"The aggregate of the annual production of the manufacturing industries of Cuyahoga, Summit and Stark counties amounts to $40,000,000, nearly one-seventh of the whole production of the state, giving $7,000,000 to the hands of laborers, whose existence is due to the advantages public improvements give for such enterprises without which these laborers would not stay in these counties.

"The policy and justice of making this appropriation is so obvious that we think the legislature will take pleasure in granting the prayer of the petitioners asking for the improvement and appropriation."

Our Akron cotemporary has elevated the question above every "local" issue. Corrollary to the above we now submit the following resolutions, adopted by the Tuscarawas Miners' Association, at a meeting held at Akron on Monday the 17th inst:

"Resolved, That a permanently increased supply of water on the Portage Summit to the Ohio Canal is undeniably necessary to the mining interests of the Cuyahoga and Tuscarawas Valley.

"2d, That we look upon the abandonment of the Ohio Canal for at least the northern hundred miles thereof a public calamity.

"3d, That this meeting respectfully and most earnestly urge upon the legislature to adopt such legislation as will secure the water of the Pennsylvania and Ohio Canal reservoirs in Portage county to that purpose."

To all which the people of Massillon will say, Amen, we feel assured.

In consequence of indisposition Bro. Hingely was unable to preach on last Sunday, but we are pleased to state that he will preach on next Sunday at the usual hours.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Wednesday evening, Feb.19, 1873.

Council meeting, regular session.

President in the chair—roll call, members present, Messrs. Folger, Gise, Oberlin, Ruchti, Warwick, Willenborg and Kirkland.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Mr. Folger from the standing committee on the judiciary reported an ordinance to repeal the ordinances fixing the salary of the city marshal and city solicitor, which was read a first time and passed to the orders of the day.

Mr. Ruchti from the standing committee on streets and alleys to whom was referred the petition in reference to the side track constructed on Summit street, north of Main st., submitted a written report in accordance with the certificate of R. E. Wilson (county surveyor) who was employed by Mr. Ruchti, to ascertain if said side track is on said street. The following is the certificate:

I hereby certify that the Lake Shore and Tuscarawas Valley R R. is situated on the Mathew Johnson state road from Tremont street in Massillon to little Sippo Creek. Signed

R. E. Wilson, county surveyor.

Mr. Warwick, of the same committee, doubted the correctness of the survey made by Mr. Wilson, for the reason that the survey was made without reference to the location of the corner stones, hence he did not concur in the report made by Mr. Ruchti and Mr. Gise.

The further consideration of the report was deferred for fifteen days.

A petition was presented, signed by Chas. Garrigues, and Rudolph Altekruse, in reference to obstructions on Tremont street in front of and adjoining the residences of the petitioners, and ask that the nuisance be removed.

The foregoing petition was referred to the committee on streets and alleys.

Mr. Ruchti moved that the street and alley committee give to Mr. C. Borgers the grade of an alley adjoining the property of said Borgers, on Hill street. Motion prevailed.

Mr. Oberlin submitted the following, which was adopted.

The undersigned from the standing committee on finance begs leave to report that claim of Mr. Mong can be extended for one year at 8 per cent, there fore,

Resolved, That the council do now accept the proposal of Mrs. Mong and the clerk is hereby directed to make the proper note to her for the same.

C. N. Oberlin, Ch'm. Com.

Russell & Co. presented a bill for lumber and timber for county bridges $11.77, which was referred to the committee on claims with instructions to collect the same from the county commissioners.

Bill of D. O. Brown, $5.00, for coal to mayor's office and prison was accepted.

On motion council adjourned.

A new barber shop has just opened up immediately over E. Kachler's drug store—to be carried on by I. Palmer, jr. & Co. This is the seventh in this city—enough to keep a good many faces clean. Barbers now don't use as big words as they used to. In other days we have seen such words as barbotomy, shaveology, shearotomy and their corresponding terms, pompously paraded under the general tonsorial head. All our barbers, so far as we know, can make a clean shave and not draw blood, and shorten hair to order.

They continue to have lively times among the editorial brethren and sistern, at Alliance, and it is mostly on the temperance question. All claim to be on one side, but bro. Joseph don't feel disposed to mix with the others. A Citizen, in the Monitor, is after him quite vigorously, and the editor gives him a little occasional notice. Better pull together. For some cause they are working up the liquor sellers there pretty vigorously.

It has been suggested that he will speak on Christianity and Rationalism, examined and contrasted from a liberal stand point; also on the Influence of Christianity. Of course it is not democratic—is down on state rights, and favors a strong, united government. In it is an address on Federalism, in which the writer says many good things in a forcible way, but whether the people can be induced to agree to all he utters is a question to be decided hereafter.

[In consequence of the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Hingely the oyster supper did not take place as first announced, on last Tuesday evening, so the time has been changed as above indicated.—Ed.]

In last week's Monitor we find a rather interesting account, somewhat in detail, of the Canton district conference, which was held at Alliance on the 18th and 19th inst. The complete list of itinerant ministers, those in active duty, is 27; local ministers, 45; district stewards, 19; Sunday school superintendents, 18. Among the local preachers we observe the names of Dr. A. H. Johnson, and J. R. Hoover of this place. Nancy Walker is among the exhorters. In a brief speech Rev. S. Y. Kenneday said there are now about four millions of Methodists in the world, and the sun never ceases to shine where there are members of that church.

A. C. Bakewell & Co., of Pittsburg, dealers in printers' material, have issued the first number of The Quadrat. In addition to its advertisements this neat publication presents a fair share of reading matter, devoted to the interests and advancement of the art preservative. The publishers propose to deal on the square with their patrons, furnishing presses, type, inks, and all the needed appliances to carry on the printing business. It will be a great convenience in this region of country.

Last week several rather unfortunate runaways of teams took place in town resulting in smashing up things badly. Fortunately nobody was injured in any of these mishaps.

On the 14th prox. the meeting of the Pittsburgh annual conference of the M. E. church takes place at Salem, and will probably remain in session four or five days. Changes in numerous stations will occur, especially where one preacher has been at the same station for three years, as that is as long as the regulations of the church now permits. Bro. Hingely will come under that head. Having been here three years he has made many friends among our people, as well outside as in the church.

In various places over the country last Sunday and Monday the mercury was below zero, from five to ten or fifteen degrees. Here it was reported at seven below Monday morning in some localities. The freezing was more severe than at any time this winter so several concur in stating.

Sounds were heard one day last week very much like the music of a street grinder's organ. We have not heard from it since.

Death of Mr. Warthorst.—Our community will regret to be informed of the death of Mr. Frank Warthorst, Sr., an the 2d inst, at Hessendermstatt, Germany, aged about 70 years. During his residence here for many years Mr. W. was one of the most active, energetic and enterprising of our citizens, and numerous evidences of his skill as an architect, and his efficiency as contractor of buildings are to be seen in various parts of the city. While he did much in this way to enhance the value of the property of the city, he was otherwise engaged in aiding to develop the mineral resources of the vicinity; especially in the working of sandstone nearest, or rather now in the city. Where before seemed to be a broad waste of space, Mr. W. developed the source of great wealth. The vast quantities and excellent qualities of sandstone, so well adapted to building and dry grinding purposes, were brought to light by Mr. Warthorst's energy, as we understand, so that the quarry has secured a reputation for excellence, not only in our own but many other states; and towns and cities, and manufacturies hundreds of miles distant in every direction, we may say, are using this stone for grinding purposes, with the best of results. Mr. James Suter, one of the present managers, and we believe principal proprietors, in company with Capt. Everhart, has also aided greatly to develop and work this extensive quarry. Perhaps to Mr. S. is due the principal credit of working the quarry for several years past as Mr. Warthorst, on account of failing health and necessary absence, could not be present to superintend business in person. In this community generally Mr. W. has the credit of first developing and bringing to light a source of wealth to the city for which he will be long remembered. In his beliefs Mr. W. was not regarded as very orthodox, nor from all we can find out, did he claim to be, but in the last years of his life seemed to manifest a decided leaning toward spiritualism—a faith of which many moderns are not backward in advocacy.

A fire of considerable magnitude broke out on last Saturday night, at Canton, resulting in the loss of some $10,000 worth of property. I. C. Richards boot and shoe store, and W. Essig & Son's hardware store were almost entirely destroyed. Both insured. The high wind prevailing rendered the fire a very dangerous one, but by the energetic efforts of the firemen it was fortunately suppressed. One or two adjoining Buildings also sustained some loss.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week a Hibernian dramatic troupe entertained not large audiences of our people at the Opera House, presenting panoramic views, singing Irish songs and doing various comic and funny acts. The company spent no money here that we can find out, in trying to make their visit known, or they might have had better houses.

Mihcael Kraybille, of this vicinity gives notice that he keeps a number of cows, and is prepared to supply customers with good milk in quantities to suit buyers. There is room for him though several others are engaged in the same business, and have as much as they can do.

On Monday last a disastrous fire took place at White Sulpher springs, which resulted in the entire destruction of the Ohio Girls' Industrial School Building. The whole structure was over 800 feet long, constructed of wood, and was totally consumed—estimated loss $40,000. Of course it destroys the school for the present.

Last Thursday evening the little son of B. F. McConnell, was accidentally knocked over by a passing team, and the wheels of the vehicle ran over his breast. He was somewhat injured by the accident, but we are pleased to state is getting along all right, by last accounts.

Bro. J. J. Hoover, junior editor of the American, has started on a visit to his native place in Pennsylvania, and expects to be at Washington City on the 4th of March, to witness the inauguration of the president. We hope he may have a safe and pleasant journey.

Mrs. Waisbrooker, who is somewhat known here as a lecturer on Spiritualism, and as a writer of much vigor and force, is now at Battle Creek, Mich. She is about commencing the publication of a weekly paper, Our Age, to be devoted to the advocacy of free thought, and radical discussion of all questions pertaining to human progress and welfare. The paper is to be commenced in May next, and she sends forth two pages to the world, and these are filled with thoughts vigorously expressed, discussing and explaining questions in the forcible and energetic style that ever characterizes her efforts. When she commences the publication of that paper there will be a sensation in the camp of orthodoxy.

Many seem to be sanguine of the success of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Road, which is to pass through Navarre, Dalton, Orrville, and on to the lake.

The Illustrated Phrenological Journal
VOLUME FIFTY-SIX, 1873.

THE Science of Mind is the central point around which revolves the whole circle of the sciences. It is the key to universal knowledge, and Self Knowledge is the key to the science of mind. Phrenology, the basis of mental philosophy, shows how human character and capacity are related to the universal laws; and how humanity is harmonized with divinity. "Know Thyself"—Since the Grecian sage inscribed the immortal words on the temple of Delphi, the world has struggled toward a solution of the problems of human existence: The Origin of Races, involving the origin of life, earnestly discussed by ethnologists and physiologists, cannot fail to interest the truth-seeker.

Physiology and Psychology are prominent features; embracing the subjects of soul, mind, bodily structure and functions, social relations, education, religion, criminal jurisprudence, &c. Physiognomy and temperaments, signs of character, peculiarities of organization considered, with illustrations from life. Self Improvement—All the gains of science and art should be applied to perfecting ourselves and improving the race. Happy Homes are the result of a normal education and development, and a life according to the laws of life. The Phrenological Journal for 1873 will keep pace with the march of events, scientific, social and political, and seek to declare the good and true.

Terms.—Monthly at $3 a year in advance. Single numbers 30 cents. Clubs of ten or more $2 each. And the ANXIOUS MOTHER, a splendid Oil Chromo, price, $5, given to every subscriber. Phrenological Journal 3d; the Science of Health, 2d, and the chromo 5d, all for $4,50. Our chromo is now ready for delivery. If sent by mail mounted and varnished, ready for framing 30 cents extra required. Agents wanted Cash commission given. Address S. R WELLS, publisher, 389 Broadway, N. Y.

Vinegar Bitters are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whisky, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and a Life-giving Principle, a Perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition, enriching it, refreshing and invigorating both mind and body. They are easy of administration, prompt in their action, certain in their results, safe and reliable in all forms of disease.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In these complaints it has no equal, and one bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Grateful Thousands proclaim Vinegar Bitters the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist: There is scarcely an individual on the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS twice a week.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc., etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

Dr. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters act on all these cases in a similar manner. By purifying the Blood they remove the cause, and by resolving away the effects of the inflammation (the tubercular deposits) the affected parts receive health, and a permanent cure is effected.

The properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

The Aperient and mild Laxative properties of DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are the best safe-guard in cases of eruptions and malignant fevers. Their balsamic, healing, and soothing properties protect the humors of the fauces. Their Sedative properties allay pain in the nervous system, stomach, and bowels, from inflammation, wind, colic, cramps, etc.

Their Counter-Irritant influence extends throughout the system. Their Anti-Bilious properties stimulate the liver, in the secretion of bile, and its discharges through the biliary ducts, and are superior to all remedial agents, for the cure of Bilious Fever, Fever and Ague, etc.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed. The liver, the stomach, the bowels, the kidneys, and the nerves are rendered disease-proof by this great invigorant.

Directions.—Take of the Bitters on going to bed at night from a half to one and one-half wine-glassful. Eat good nourishing food, such as beef-steak, mutton chop, venison, roast beef, and vegetables, and take out-door exercise. They are composed of purely vegetable ingredients, and contain no spirit.

Why Endure What is Curable?

"What can't be cured must be endured" says the proverb, but indigestion can be cured, and therefore it is the merest stupidity to endure it. Dyspeptics have certainly a right to continue dyspepties to the end of their days if they choose, but as it is not supposed that any rational being prefers physical torment to ease and health, the probability is that if all sufferers from indigestion were convinced that an absolute, infallible remedy for their complaint existed, they would with one accord resort to it. We most emphatically declare that such a remedy does exist, and that its name is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The record of its success extends over a period of more than twenty years, and it is fearlessly alleged that during the whole of that time it has never failed to afford permanent relief in any disorder or derangement of the stomach that was not organic, malignant, and incurable. The testimonials that go to establish this important fact can be counted by the thousand. Stomach complaints that had been aggravated by a total disregard of all dietary rules, and intensified and rendered chronic by medicinal treatment or drastic purgation, have in hundreds of instances been cured within three months by the systematic use of this celebrated stomachic and alterative. It should be remembered that weakness of the digestive organs involves many other ailments. Biliousness, headache, nervous debility, spasms, palpitation of the heart, rush of blood to the head, nausea, vertigo, and sleeplessness are among its concomitants and results; and for all these the great vegetable tonic is a specific. It acts first upon the stomach, and through the stomach upon the secretory and nervous systems and the bowels, its general effect being always genial and beneficent.

SCIENCE VERSUS THEOLOGY.

'O how happy could I be with either,
Were 'tother dear charmer away.'

The modern skepticism that rejects all spiritual things because it cannot measure them, by scale or rule, we confess to have no sympathy with. Professor Tyndall's pronounced advocacy of a certain project suggested by an anoymous writer in a late number of the Contemporary Review, whereby the value of prayer in securing physical blessings may be scientifically tested by setting apart a certain ward in a hospital, the patients of which are to be the special objects of prayer, against given number of the same class of patients in another ward. Then after a long experiment compare the mortality, we regard at best as but huge joke, in attempt, by one whose sense of humor is of the grim sort. We hold that all discussion of Divine revelation to be most unprofitable, especially so, when the parties to it occupy an entirely different plane. That you do not agree with we, Paine says, only proves that I don't agree with you. The mental structure of the atheist renders him utterly incapable of comprehending what the believer means by such terms as "spiritual life," "spiritual needs," etcetera. 'Tis his misfortune, that to him, they can have no significance, and why this is so, we think we can explain and that the skeptic's boastful self-sufficiency will be discovered to arise from certain well recognized defects in his mental organization—something to be deplored. Certain faculties are undeveloped, he stands before us an infant, utterly helpless, whenever a subject is approached requiring a certain grasp. We shall deal with the subject from his standpoint of "hard facts," setting aside for the nonce everything pertaining to what is generally recognized as Divine authority in our argument.

Phenology may not, perhaps, claim the dignity of a science. We believe, however, that it will in time vindicate the claims of Gall, Spurzheim and Combe in its behalf in spite of the Barnumizing efforts of the Fowlers whose "dollarly" instincts have done so much to degrade it to the level of fortune telling, in this country. Assuming, therefore, that the general principles of its recognized claims are conceded, human excellence demands a well balanced mind in a sound body as its machinery. According to the completeness or otherwise of this complex machine, man, is the exact degree of all excellence to be computed.

Now our "model man" shall not be a genius. We simply demand that every faculty shall be fairly proportioned. If form, color and ideality are defective, immature, his world is narrowed down; works of art and of the imagination will have no charms for him—will not exist for him; and we might follow this up through the social, perceptive, and knowledge groups until we ascend to the top brain, where sits enthroned the wisdom principle, and in proportion to its development, do we recognize our relations to Deity, and 'tis safe to say, that the world has yet to produce one man, pre eminently great as a law-giver or one whose life has been devoted to the best interests of humanity, deficient in the God believing principle.

Now what is the logical deduction from these premises, when our world is enlarged and beautified, contracted and cheerless in exact proportion to our sympathies. "He lives most, who loves most," is an old maxim, and expresses the same idea. Nature, if you will, has endowed man with certain faculties; are any without a purpose? We observe around us the mental and physical cripples appealing to our sympathies in a thousands ways. Suppose one of these, born with some horrid deformity, should insist that we accept him as our ideal of manly beauty and excellence. Is this not the position of our skeptic in his efforts to bring the believer down to his level? His mental deformity is patent to every one but himself. 'Tis true he does not see the necessity of a God, and for the same reason that a Digger Indian does not see the use of a Milton or a Shakespeare. The skeptic is therefore a subject for our commiseration.

We are all children in something. The thief is a veritable infant to the extent of the moral faculties failing to restrain him from his evil ways. If our moral brain controlled every action of our lives, we should realize that every violation of the moral law was a wrong against ourselves. Therefore we reiterate we are children, as we lack the full proportions of excellence which mature manhood demands.

We shall be warned that the logical sequence of our teachings prove too much. For if man comes into the world fully equipped for the place assigned him by nature, we reduce man to the level of the brute, we have only to reply in the language of George Combe on a certain occasion: "I am not here to discuss creeds, but simply to state facts."

"Whither went his soul, let such relate
As know the secrets of the future state.
Divines can say but what themselve believe,
Strong proofs they have, but nothing positive
For were all plain then all sides most agree
And faith, itself, be lost in certainty.
To live uprightly, then, is surely best,
Try to save ourselves, and not to "damn the rest."
The soul of Arcite went where the heathens go,
Who, better live than we, though less they know."—DRYDEN.

Henry Clay once accused John Randolph of being an aristocrat. In a voice whose shrill, piercing tones penetrated every ear in the house Randolph exclaimed, "If a man is known by the company he keeps, the gentleman who has just sat down is more of an aristocrat than I claim to be; for he spends most of his nights in the company of kings and queens and knaves."

WOMAN.

By an immense practice, extending through a period of many years, having within that time treated over nine thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and agreeable medicine that meets the indications presented by that class of diseases with positive certainty and exactness.

To designate this natural specific compound, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my most exalted appreciation of its value, based upon actual and personal experience. As a close observer, I have while witnessing its positive results in the few special diseases incident to the separate organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will at all times and under all circumstances act kindly and in harmony with the laws which govern the female system, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician. Nay, even more, so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who employs it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. If a beneficial effect is not experienced by the time two-thirds of the contents of the bottle are used, I will, on the return of the bottle, two-thirds of the medicine having been taken according to directions, and the case being one for which I recommend it, promptly refund the money paid for it. Had I not the most perfect confidence in its virtues, I could not offer it as I do under these conditions; but having witnessed its truly miraculous cures in thousands of cases, I feel warranted and perfectly safe in risking both my reputation and my money on its merits.

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures—as if by magic and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhea, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, and very many other chronic diseases peculiar to woman not mentioned here, in which, as well as in the cases which I have mentioned, my Favorite Prescription works cures—the marvel of the world. This medicine I do not extol as a cure-all, but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm in any state or condition. It is a MOST POWERFUL RESTORATIVE TONIC to the general as well as the sexual system, also combining the most valuable nervine properties. Both the muscular and nervous forces are strengthened and built up by its use. It will be found invaluable in diseases incident to pregnancy, and can be taken in moderate doses with perfect safety while in that state. Indeed, it is a Mother's Cordial, and so prepares the system for parturition that it renders child-labor easy. I have received the heartfelt praise from hundreds of mothers for the inestimable benefits thus conferred.

I offer my Favorite Prescription to the Ladies of America with the sincerity of an honest heart, and for their best welfare. Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in my TREATISE ON CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE GENERATIVE AND URINARY ORGANS, sent secure from observation upon receipt of two postage stamps. It treats minutely on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to their management.

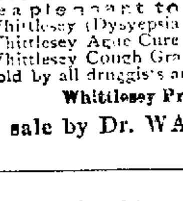
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,



For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Much serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar-coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution or diet or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor, and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action, or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back, and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken, as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion, and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

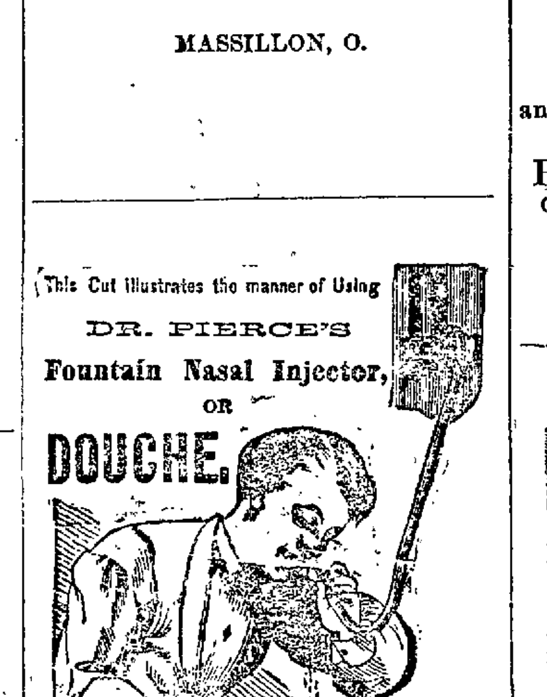
This Cut illustrates the manner of Using

DR. PIERCE'S

Fountain Nasal Injector,

OR

DOUCHE.



This instrument is especially designed for the perfect application of

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.

It is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried high up and perfectly applied to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. The want of success in treating catarrh heretofore has arisen largely from the impossibility of applying remedies to these cavities and chambers by any of the ordinary methods. This obstacle in the way of effecting cures is entirely overcome by the invention of the Douche. In using this instrument, the Fluid is carried by its own weight (no snuffing, forcing or pumping being required,) up one nostril in a full gently flowing stream to the highest portion of the nasal passages, passes into and thoroughly cleanses all the tubes and chambers connected therewith, and flows out of the opposite nostril. Its use is pleasant and so simple that a child could understand it. Full and explicit directions accompany each instrument. When used with this instrument, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications.

Symptoms of Catarrh. Frequent head-ache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucus, purulent, offensive, &c. In others a dryness, dry, watery, weak or inflamed eyes, stopping up or obstruction of nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers; voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, &c. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, when used with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, and accompanied with the constitutional treatment which is recommended in the pamphlet that wraps each bottle of the Remedy, is a perfect specific for this loathsome disease, and the proprietor offers, in good faith, $500 reward for a case he cannot cure. The Remedy is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. The Catarrh Remedy is sold at 50 cents. Douche at 60 cents, by all Druggists, or either will be mailed by proprietor on receipt of 60 cents.

MANHOOD,

How Lost, How Restored!

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

HAIR

RENEWER.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR-DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Wishart's Pine Tree

TAR CORDIAL.

Nature's Great Remedy

FOR THE

Throat and Lungs.

It is gratifying to us to inform the public that Dr L Q C Wishart's Pine Tree tar Cordial, for throat and lung diseases, has gained an enviable fame from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and from thence to some of the first families of Europe, not through the press alone, but by persons throughout the states actually benefitted and cured at his office. While he publishes less, so say our reporters, he is unable to supply the demand. It gains and holds its reputation.—

First. Not by stopping cough, but by loosening and assisting nature to throw off the unhealthy matter collected about the throat and bronchial tubes, which causes irritation.

Second. It removes the cause of irritation (which produces cough) of the mucous membrane and bronchial tubes, assists the lungs to act and throw off the unhealthy secretions and purifies the blood

Third. It is free from squills, lobelia, ipecac and opium, of which most throat and lung remedies are composed, which allay the cough only, and disorganize the stomach. It has a soothing effect on the stomach, acts on the liver and kidneys, and lymphatic and nervous regions, thus reaching to every part of the system, and in its invigorating and purifying effects it has gained a reputation which it holds above all others in the market.

NOTICE.

The Pine Tree Tar Cordial,

Great American Dyspepsia Pills,

And Worm Sugar Drops

Being under my immediate direction, they shall not lose their curative qualities by the use of the cheap and impure articles.

A REGULAR GRADUATE OF MEDICINE, AS DIPloma at office will show, has been longer engaged in the treatment of Venereal, Sexual and Private Diseases than any other physician in Pittsburg.

Spermatorrhea, Sexual Debility and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse in youth, sexual excesses in maturer years, or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as nocturnal emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, dimness of sight, confusion of ideas, evil forebodings, aversion to society of females, loss of memory and sexual power rendering marriage improper, are permanently cured.
